LEADING CHANGE: INTERPROFESSIONAL TEACHING, INNOVATION, AND EXCITEMENT

FRIDAY APRIL 15, 2016 8:00AM - 1:00PM

LOCATION: Center for Translational Research and Education (CTRE) Loyola University Chicago Health Sciences Campus

PURPOSE:
A half-day interactive workshop that will explore, in both large and small groups, the benefits of interprofessional education and team teaching for best patient-centered care.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:
By the end of this workshop, participants will be able to:

- Explore integrating the Interprofessional Education Collaborative (IPEC) competencies for Interprofessional Collaborative Practice (IPCP) into student learning activities to further align with Loyola’s curriculum and practice sites
- Practically build upon foundations for advancing interprofessional education through development of their own interprofessional facilitation skills
- Identify tools and resources to promote interprofessional co-facilitation and team teaching

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS:
Lynn Sinclair and Mandy Lowe, Centre for Interprofessional Education, University of Toronto.
