

INTERPROFESSIONAL HEALTH EDUCATION OPPORTUNITY!

Proviso East High School Two-Day Health Fair

WEDNESDAY/THURSDAY MARCH 30-31, 2016

Loyola University School of Nursing operates a School-Based Health Center at Proviso East High School. Faculty and students from the School of Nursing, Stritch School of Medicine, Social Work, and Public Health participate.

As part of educational outreach, each spring we have a two-day health fair that all 1600 Proviso students attend.

This health fair provides a great opportunity for Loyola students, health care professionals and community members to interact with and educate high school students about health.

PLUS, IT'S A LOT OF FUN!

If you are interested in being part of this event, please contact:

Addie Van Zwoil, LCSW;
avanzwo@luc.edu or 708-449-9523

We could not put on this very important annual health fair for adolescents without the support of Loyola students, faculty, and staff.

WHO: Undergraduate and graduate nursing, dietetic, health systems management, social work, exercise science, public health, medical students/residents and their faculty mentors

WHAT: Proviso East High School Annual Student Health Fair

WHEN: March 30 and 31 from 7:30am - 3:30pm;

WHERE: Proviso East High School,
807 S. 1st Ave in Maywood, IL

WHY: Why not? This is an opportunity to put your knowledge, creativity and communication skills to use and educate students at Proviso East High School. When else would you have an opportunity to interact meaningfully with almost 800 teenagers in one day? Whew!

HOW: Pick a health related topic and create a display, or you can partner with others to staff a booth. You must be present for at least one of the two days of the health fair.
